COKE AND CHEMISTRY

PAGES
RUSSIAN ENGLISH

Coal

- The future basis for coking: possible composition of routine coal charges.
B. P. Kiselev and L. I. Serebrennikov 2 1
- Monitoring selective grinding of charge components from size class reflectograms. E. V. Karunova, Yu. V. Konovalova, S. G. Gagarin,
A. M. Gyul'maliev, and I. A. Sultanguzin 6 6

Coke

- A factor analysis study of the correlation of quality parameters for blast furnace coke. S. G. Gagarin 12 13
- Dependence of coke hot strength on coal charge component and grade composition.
V. N. Zainutdinov, E. A. Bulanov, V. Ya. Kuznetsov, L. A. Zinov'eva, and Yu. B. Tsekot 15 17
- Quality change in metallurgical coke passing from coking-plant samplers to blast-furnace bunkers. V. Ya. Kuznetsov, E. A. Bulanov, L. A. Zinov'eva, and Yu. B. Tsekot 18 20
- Industrial coking of coal charges from the Krasnoarmeiskaya-Zapadnaya No. 1
pit. A. R. Davidzon 20 23

Chemistry

- Production and additional preparation of pressed naphthalene for making phthalic anhydride. M. K. Pakter, V. L. Pol'skii, Yu. V. Il'yashenko, E. V. Nikitin, and Z. A. Zhuravel 24 27
- Making gasoline or liquid additives for fuel from methanol (survey).
M. I. Zaretskii 29 32

Environmental Protection

- A combined coagulant and flocculating agent for removing phenol from coking chemical plant effluents. V. V. Kislykh, A. E. Darienko, and Yu. Ya. Filonenko 31 35

Proceedings of the Technical Session (Council) of the Coke Refractory Service Company, 2005

- Experience with prolonged operation of a coking battery with a cycle duration of 65 h. A. A. Levchenko 43 39
